Travelling from the South by A1 and A46

1. Those travelling from the South should approach Lincoln on the A46, having left the A1 at Newark.
2. Continue on the A46, which becomes the Lincoln by-pass at point A on the map.
3. At the Doddington roundabout (point B) turn right. Continue south-east until the (traffic lights) junction with Tritton Road (point C).
4. Turn left. Alumina Court is some 1500m on the left. Turn left, then take the first right and keep right into our car park.

Travelling from the North and North-West by A1 and A57, or by A15

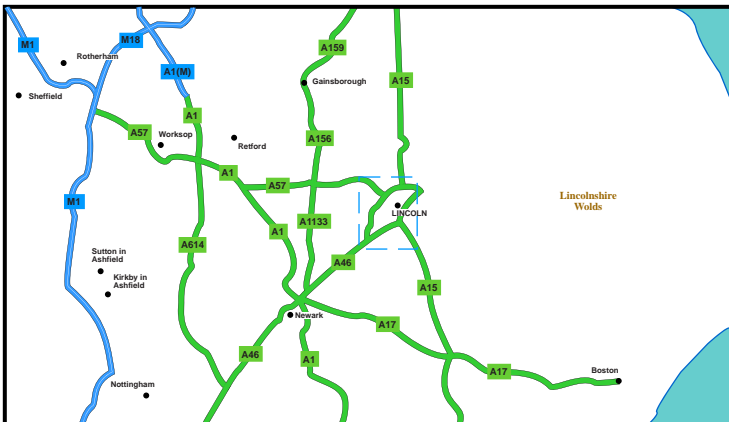

1. From the North, it is suggested that you leave the A1 at Tuxford and follow the A57 to the junction with the Lincoln by-pass at point D.
2. Turn right along the by-pass until the Doddington Road junction (point B) and turn south-east to the traffic lights at point C, where you need to turn left.
3. Alumina Court is on your left after 1500m. Turn left, then take the first right and keep right into our car park.

Travelling from the South-East by A15

1. Follow the A15 down Cross O'Cliff Hill until you reach the Newark Road (point E). Turn left at traffic lights.

Travelling by Train

The Lincoln Central station is not on a main-line railway and you will need to change to a local train at either Doncaster (from the North) or Newark (from the South). Travellers from London will need to use Kings' Cross station. Taxis are available from Newark and Lincoln Central stations.
